WHAT IS Dip IFR?

Diploma in International Financial Reporting

Modern accountants are aware that the focus is shifting from national to international standards.

The ACCA Diploma in International Financial Reporting (Dip IFR) will enable you to cross boundaries in an increasingly important field of accountancy. It is designed to develop knowledge of international standards. It provides an understanding of the concepts and principles which underpin them, and of their application in the international marketplace.

This qualification is intended for professional accountants and auditors, working in practice and industry, who are qualified in accordance with national accounting standards.

The Diploma can be studied as an open-learning course. It is assessed by a single three hour examination.

ACCA has designed the programme to be flexible, so that the Diploma can be completed in three to six months.

Who can study for the Dip IFR?

Any accounting practitioner or auditor, qualified in accordance with national accounting standards or if you are a post graduate in commerce with 2 years experience in F&A department or a graduate in any stream with 3 years experience in F&A department is eligible to take the qualification.
